Assistant/Associate Professor in Physical Therapy

The Department of Physical Therapy in the College of Public Health and Health Professions at the University of Florida invites qualified individuals to apply for an Assistant or Associate Professor position. This new position is a 12-month, full-time (1.0 FTE) tenure-accruing faculty position. The department is seeking a dynamic individual with extramural grant funding and a strong publication record. The ideal applicant is expected to be a clinician-scientist with expertise in neurological physical therapy and respiratory motor control in animal models that enjoys working in a highly collaborative environment and interacts effectively with a diverse and multidisciplinary group of faculty, staff, researchers, clinicians, and trainees. While the primary focus of this position will be on basic science research, teaching is expected, preferably in the applied content areas of neuroscience and respiratory physiology.

UF Physical Therapy: The academic environment at UF is exceptional, with rigorous academic programs, state-of-the-art facilities and equipment, and a large offering of clinical and research seminars and conferences. The Department of Physical Therapy faculty is strongly committed to excellence in both research and teaching, and has received numerous national teaching and research awards. The Department offers two educational programs: an entry-level Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) program and training in Rehabilitation Sciences (PhD).

Minimum Requirements: Eligible for PT licensure in Florida; PhD degree, or equivalent

Preferred Qualifications: 1) Expertise in respiratory physiology and neurorehabilitation strategies to enhance respiratory function in spinal cord injury; 2) Experience in animal models of spinal cord injury as well as patient care; 3) An established record of funding and an excellent publication record.

Additional Information: Individuals with diverse backgrounds are strongly encouraged to apply to Job# 38545 at apply.interfolio.com/55491. All applicants should submit an application packet, which includes a CV, letter of interest, and three letters of recommendation. The position will remain open until filled. Applicant review will begin immediately.

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the US. Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida’s Sunshine Law.